

OF NOTE

REID WILL RECEIVE GLOBAL EDUCATOR AWARD

Dr. Pamela Trotman Reid

The World Affairs Council will present its third annual Global Educator Award to Dr. Pamela Trotman Reid, president of the University of St. Joseph in West Hartford.

Dr. Reid will be honored June 6 for her leadership in promoting international education at the university and in the community at large. Under the leadership of Dr. Reid, the university has built educational partnerships with diverse countries from across the globe, increased international recruiting, and fostered cultural exchanges. In addition to her travel to China, Oman, Ghana, and Japan, Dr. Reid has created relationships with universities in the Netherlands and Oman.

...

3 HONORED FOR PHILANTHROPY

More than 250 philanthropists, grantmakers and community leaders recently honored three philanthropic leaders: Andy Eder of Eder Bros. Inc. and the Eder Family Foundation; David Nee of William Caspar Graustein Memorial Fund; and Nancy Roberts, recently retired president of the Connecticut Council for Philanthropy.

At the Philanthropy Summit, Eder was named the recipient of the 2013 John H. Flier Award for his leadership in promoting private action for the public good.

Nee, executive director of the Hamden-based William Caspar

CRT GALA RAISES FUNDS FOR VET HOME

The Community Renewal Team celebrated its 50th anniversary with a gala themed "50 Years of Changing Lives" at the Hartford Marriott. The event raised more than $50,000 for the future Veterans Landing residence, an assisted living facility being built on the Newington Veterans Affairs Campus. The $28 million project will feature 103 units for veterans and their spouses. The keynote speaker was Mark Kennedy Shriver, senior vice president for strategic initiatives at Save the Children. Shriver is the son of Sargent Shriver, who is widely credited as being the "architect" of President Johnson's 'War on Poverty.' Pictured are, from left, Shriver; Lena Rodriguez, CRT's president and CEO; and Linda J. Kelly, president of Hartford Foundation for Public Giving, a CRT partner and funder.

URBAN LEAGUE HONORS AD AGENCY